Muskingum Valley, and probably knows what he is talking about:

"The Cincinnati Price Current, of the 24th, in an article on Dye's Bank Mirror, shows conclusively that the rascal who has been so well exposed by the press, here and sil over the country, as a confederate of swindling paper schemes, is even a greater rascal than he has been heretofore regarded. There is not such another scamp in this community. The heroes of the Martha Washington tragedy or of the last winter city bank forgeries, cannot bold a candle to him in blushing knavery.

What are the police about now?"—O. S. Journal.
